SECURITY ESCALATION!

A sudden flare-up on the border has put the nation on high alert. The public is demanding a strong, stable, and unified government immediately.

Major Parties:

You must now prioritize parties with strong security platforms and you must offer one of the top security portfolios (Defense or Foreign Affairs) to another party to create a credible "National Security Government."

All Parties:

Any party that refuses to negotiate or holds out over minor budget issues will lose public trust.

Ideological "Red Lines" around security are now multiplied!

ECONOMIC EMERGENCY!

Credit rating agencies have downgraded the country's rating, and a budget deficit of billions has been discovered. There is no money left for extra political promises.

The Ministry of Finance Power Up:

The Ministry of Finance is now the most important portfolio in the room. The party holding this portfolio gets ultimate veto power over all other parties' financial requests!

Financial Demands Frozen:

All previous promises for "special sector budgets" or extra ministry funding are null and void.

SUPREME COURT RULING!

The Supreme Court has ruled that local municipalities have the authority to operate public transportation and allow mini-markets to stay open on Shabbat.

Religious Parties:

You demand an immediate national law overriding local municipalities to enforce total business and transit closures on Shabbat nationwide.

Secular & Nationalist Parties:

You demand the preservation of local authority so secular cities can keep public transit and businesses open on weekends.

Red Line Enforced:

Compromising on the status quo is no longer an option—parties must lock in their stance before signing any agreement.

MASS STREET PROTESTS!

Hundreds of thousands of citizens have taken to the streets outside Parliament demanding social justice, lower cost of living, and an end to political "backroom deals."

Major Parties:

You face immense public pressure to form a coalition with each other (a power-sharing government) rather than giving in to extreme demands from smaller parties.

Transparency Requirement:

Parties are no longer allowed to make secret deals. All coalition agreements must be read aloud to the President immediately upon signing.
